LAST MEETING OF THE SCIENTISTS IN BROOKLYN.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS-TO GO TO SAN FRAN-CISCO, PROBABLY, NEXT YEAR-PA-PERS READ YESTERDAY.

The body of scientists known as the American Association for the Advancement of Science will cose the forty-third annual meeting in Brooklyn today, so far as the transaction of business and the reading of papers to appear in the journal of the transactions are concerned. To-morrow an oppormity will be afforded to the members of the association to see the Hudson Highlands upon a trip to West Point by water.

The annual election of officers was the principal business transacted at the general meeting yester-day. No decision was arrived at in regard to the place of meeting next year, but it was voted to go to San Francisco if the railroad rates are made satisfactory-which means if a rate less than one-half

The officers chosen unanimously by the tion for next year's meeting were reported to the association by the council in the morning. The list is as follows: President, E. W. Morley, Cleveland, Ohio; vice-presidents, mathematics and astronomy,

CHANGES PROPOSED.

It was announced at the meeting that the Royal Society had decided to prepare a general index. Changes in the constitution of the association were proposed which would add social science to the scope of the section on economic science and statis-tics, and separate the section on geology from geography, creating a separate section for the latter. will be acted upon next year. The Committee on Grants set apart from the fund for research $100 or a table in the Biological Laboratory, at Wood's ad complete anthropometric measureme of Indians. The time and place for the next meet ing were referred to a committee, consisting of Pro fessors Joseph Le Conte, F. W. Putnam, J. Perrin mith, G. G. Hubbard and J. W. Powell, and the president. It was the agreement of the meeting to hold the next session in San Francisco if the arrangements can be completed. An excursion at the close of the present sersion to the White Moun-tains, under the auspices of the American Forestry Association, was announced. The trip will last from August 23 to 28, and the cost will not exceed $30. Two of the sections, those on zoology and chem-istry, did not meet yesterday, their work being done. No papers were read before the section on mathematics and astronomy.

The following papers were presented to the sec tion on anthropology: Some Indian Fishing Stations Upon Long Island," by William Wallace Tooker; "The Salt of Savagery," Frank H. Cushing; "Corean Children's Games," Stewart Culin; "Survivals of the Early Dwarf Races in the New World," R. C. Hallburton; "The Ideal Museum," Thomas Wilson; "Iroquois Migrations," W. M. Beauchamp; "Crania of the Necropolis of Ancon, Peru," George A. T. Cresson. In his paper Mr. Tooker gave the derivation and meaning of a number of Indian names. He said that Suggamuck, now called Birch Creek, meant the "fishing place" for bass, from "sugg." big, applied to the fish, and "amuck," place of fishing. The Indian name of Shelter Island is Manhan-es-etahaquazuw-amuck, "their fishing place at the Shelter

GAMES OF COREAN CHILDREN.

In "Corean Games," Mr. Culin described a number of toys, and then spoke of the common Corean games such as the "Tug of War," in which villagers oppose villagers at either end of a rope of Straw, the archery contest, the game with staves and others. The Chinese names of a large number of the children's games indicate their Chinese origin. Inconclusion, he said that the undying hatred of Japan and the Japanese which permeated Corea, a survival of feelings engendered by a cruel war and invasion, were nowhere better illustrated than in the simple same of "Fighting Violets," which the children call "O-ron ka got," i. e., "barbarian head-cutting." In the Corean language, "barbarian" was another lame for Japanese, according to Mr. Culin.

The subject of "The Ideal Museum" was treated by Mr. Wilson in an interesting manner. "Iroquois Mgration" was the subject of a brief paper by the Res. Dr. Beauchamp. Frank Hamilton Cushing, ethnologist for the Bureau of American Ethnology at Washington, in his paper entitled "Sait and Savsages," referred to the universal liking for sait Among the Indians of North America. He said that he believed that nothing led the cliff dwellers down from their inaccessible dwellings to live in villages more than their desire for sait.

R. G. Hailburton read an interesting paper on the dwarf races of the New World.

The papers read before the section on geology were "The Geological Atlas Folios Issued by United States Geological Survey," F. H. Newell; "The Mindians Exposition," Jed. Hotch-Riss, and "Oil and Gas in Kansas," Erasmus Haworth. Professor B. K. Emerson, of Amherst, exhibited some vare and interesting glacial boulders from the carboniferous strata of India.

Before the section on physics papers were presented upon "The Attributes of Matter," J. W. Powell; "Definition of Motion," J. W. Powell, and "Device for Comparing Natural with Tempered Musical Scales," Morris Loeb, N. D. Hodges exhibited before the section an improved lightning conductor which he thought "discounted" the old-fashioned kind of rod.

The section in botany had these topics presented; "Products of Metamorphosis and Monstrostites," Holder and the Leaf-Scars in Pinus rigida, N. L. Britton; "Notes Upon Radot Rot Rot In conclusion, he said that the undying hatred of Japan and the Japanese which permeated Corea, a survival

Major Jed. Hotchkiss, of Staunton, Va. showed specimens of wood cut from trees that had been narked by surveyors 197 years ago. The present of the injury was still manifest upon the surface of the trees after all those years. The growth each year was about one-twentieth of an inch. These marks upon the trees corresponded with the record of the survey made for patents in 1787, and gave an excellent illustration of how long a cut

The Section on Economic Science and Statistics listened to papers upon "Rate of Interest in the United States Considered Geographically," Henry Parquhar; "The British Land Difficulty—Poultry and Eggs," James V. R. Swann; "Weeds as Related to Civilization," Byron D. Halstead; "The Providential Function of Government," B. E. Fernow; "A Misleading Statement of Gresham's Law," E. T. Skilton, Mrs. Laura Osborne Taibott read a paper upon "Some Defects in Municipal Fire Departments," With all the usual fire equipments of the fire department, the writer urged that each municipality should provide fireproof and waterproof clothing and robes, made of asbestos or other material for each fireman at the expense of the city. Mrs. Taibott aiso taiked about the beginnings of cooking schools in Washington, D. C., which was in the establishment of a Missouri school of cookery, sixteen years ago.

The Society for the Promotion of Engineering

teen years ago.

The Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education continued its sessions in the Polytechnic building yesterday. The society will continue in session to-day and officers will be elected to-morrow. Professor George W. Pympton addressed the section of mechanical science and engineering of the American Association yesterday afternoon on "Some Reminiscences of the Early History of Iron-Bridge Building in the United States."

THE BUILDING OF IRON BRIDGES.

In his lecture Dr. Plympton said: The construction of iron truss railway bridges was only fairly begun in 1856. Engineers came from a long distance to inspect a whipple truss of 146 feet span, built for the Albany Northern Railway about 1852. I built two fron bridges in 1856, using the whipple truss. The material was so distrusted sary. A testing machine was built and the testing fell to me. The machine was quite constantly at erroneously believed that iron, if kept under strain or subject to vibrations, would decay, and become granular, weak and brittle. We labored to disprove this and substantially did so. The outcome of our tests in this direction was a settled conviction that in fron bridges eye bars would replace both welded tests in this direction was a settied conviction that in i.on bridges eye bars would replace both welded links and diagonals with screw threads. Murphy scon after this built the first iron bridge that was pin-connected throughout. The experience with welds was instructive. It had been asserted that a defective weld could be detected by the imperfect ringing sound when struck. We found by testing that rods or bars joined by welding would respond satisfactorily to the ringing test when only a thin shell of outside metal was perfectly joined. I pulled many bars assunder that had passed the inspection of the master smith. The Herring test, with a magnetic needle, was not then known.

A party of scientists of the American Association visited the Western Union Building, at No. 136 Broadway, yesterday, and witnessed the reception and distribution of the kandard time from the National Observatory at Washington to all points of New-England. James Hamblet, who conducted the visitors, described the time service of New-York and Brooklyn, and explained the manner of synchronizing about 1.50 clocks in New-York and its vicinity. The party then went through the operating department of the building, and the details of the telegraphic department were fully explained by the electricians. Assemblyman S. F. Kneeland will present papers upon single tax and election methods before the section on economic science to-day.

The last public lecture complimentary to the citizens of Brooklyn given by the association, was by Dr. B. E. Fernow, of Washin, on. He spoke in Art Association Hall upon The Battle of the Forest, last evening. In the course of the lecture, which was made especially interesting by the use of lantern slides for illustration Dr. Fernow referred to the Adirondacks, showing views of forest destruction by fire, water-storage and lumerating and their rains is practically irremediable.

"Let it not be overlooked," he said, "that the State is not only the representative of communal interests as against individual interests, b

MR. BANNISTER DISCHARGED.

William H. Bannister, age thirty-four, of the law firm of Lexow, Wyre & Bannister, of Nyack, of which Senator Lexow is the senior partner, was acquitted in Justice Finnerty's police court. Coney Island, yesterday afternoon, of a charge of indecent conduct to three little girls. Justice Finnerty rebuked Mrs. Rils Johnson, the complainant. Bannister's friends say it is a case of attempted blackmail.

ANOTHER CAISSON EXPLOSION.

Chicago, Aug. 21.-During the military manoeuvres of the United States regulars under General Mes or the United States regulars under General Macs near Evanston yesterday afternoon, the rear chest of a chisson exploded. Presence of mind in smothering the flames with a threaulin prevented further damage. Three men who sat over the front axis were jarred from their seats, but escaped injury. One shraped and eleven cartridges having nearly fifty pounds of powder exploded.

THE TARIFF BILL AWAITING ITS FATE.

WILL HE JOIN THE "FAITHLESS"? From The Boston Advertiser.

If President Cleveland accepts the Gorman mea ure he is as "faithless" as any Democratic Senat who helped to pass that piece of tariff favoritism.

A PITIABLE PREDICAMENT.

From The New-York Sun (Dem.). President Cleveland is indeed in a sad, a pitlable condition. If he signs the bill, he becomes a volun-tary participant in the periody and dishonor which he has denounced so carnestly. If he vetoes it, he will put himself squarely in opposition to a large part of the party that elected him.

GETTING READY TO SWALLOW IT.

From The Philadelphia Press. Mr. Cleveland's whole time at Buzzard's Bay is given up to making that dish of crow as palatable as possible.

ALL THE SENATE'S FAULT. From The Cincinnati Enquirer (Dem.). The Senate has compelled the veto of the Tariff bill, and when the veto message is sent in it will not be the President who has been humiliated. The President will veto the Tariff bill.

THE COUNTRY WAITS IMPATIENTLY. From The Pittsburg Dispatch. The country will not be fully satisfied until after President Cleveland acts on the Tariff bill, and gets Congress off his hands.

HIS DUTY TO SIGN PROMPTLY.

From The New-York Herald. From The New-York Herald.

Mr. Cleveland must see the importance of ending the prevailing uncertainty and suspense in business circles as soon as possible. He must also realize that every day's delay is an advantage to the Whiskey Trust and a loss to the National Treasury. Under these circumstances his plain duty to the country is to sign the bill at the earliest moment practicable.

THEY TELL THE STORY OF THE RECENT STRIKE.

TESTIMONY TAKEN BY THE NATIONAL COMMIS-SIONERS A REPORT THAT PRESIDENT

CLEVELAND WANTS THE TOWN OF

Chicago, Aug. 21.-Reporters told the story of the Pullman railroad strike to-day to the National Labor Commissioners. Representatives of most of the Chicago newspapers were on the witness stand during the day. They were practically unantr in the declaration that hardly any of the strikers took part in the acts of violence or obstruction during the riots. They testified that most of the overt acts were committed by hoodlums, who had no connection with the railroads. With one or two exceptions all branded the United States special deputy marshals as inefficient and a source of constant irritation to the strikers. local labor leaders are much pleased with the methods of the National Strike Commission so far. An official of the American Railway Union to-day said that there was a well-authenticated story that President Cleveland Intimated to one of the members of the Commission, before the latter left Washington, that he wished the town of Pullman to be thoroughly investigated. Only one side of the question has been heard so far, and no repre-sentative of the railways has yet expressed his desire to give testimony before the Commission.

The first witness put upon the stand this morn ing was Michael J. Carroll, Editor of "The Eight-Mr. Carroll believed Government Hour Herald." ownership of ratiroads the true solution of the labor problem. He cited the situation in Australia, where the Government owns the telegraph lines, as proof that his ideas were practicable. Malcom McDowell, a reporter for a morning paper, testified next. He had seen cars overturned the work had been done by members of the Amerthat many railroad men were engaged in these acts. Thomas W. Heathcote, chairman of the Pullman

Strike Committee, was recalled. He declared the Pullman employes had no other alternative but to strike. The Rev. M. H. Wickman, the Swedish minister at Pullman, told of the reduction of his parishioners'

Strike Committee, was recanced the declared the Pullman employes had no other alternative but to strike.

The Rev. M. H. Wickman, the Swedish minister at Pullman, told of the reduction of his parishioners' wages. He said the Swedish laborers at Pullman were made to pay more rent at Pullman than at Roseland, or other places in the neighborhood.

"Why, then," asked Chairman Wright, "do not the men live in Roseland or vicinity?"

"They are commanded to live in Pullman, on pain of dismissal. Even where men own hours outside of Pullman, if work becomes slack, these men are the first laid off."

Mr. Wickman told of the case of an employe who was injured in the Pullman shops and obliged to stay at the hospital for nine weeks. During this time the company charged him rent for his house in Pullman, refused to pay him any damages, and cut down his wages when he returned from the hospital, because his injury prevented his doing as much work as formerly.

H. I. Cleveland, a reporter for a morning paper, gave his experience during the strike. He had seen rioting in several places, but thought those engaged in overt acts were roughs and rowdles, and that few or none of them were railroad men. Mr. Cleveland joined with the two reporters who preceded him in scoring the United States deputymarshals.

H. F. Miller, another reporter, took the stand at the beginning of the afternoon session. Mr. Miller, another reporters who preceden the statement of Vice-President Howard.

H. F. Miller, another reporter, took the stand a the beginning of the afternoon session. Mr. Milled denied the statement of Vice-President Howard of the American Railway Union, made on the stand, that the witness drew the first pistol during the riot at Blue Island. He declared that a score of revolvers were drawn almost at the same time. He told of an attempted assassimation of himself and another, reporter during the trouble at the stock yards. The witness said he observed many instances of violence and often saw menthrow switches and turn over cars. He had no knowledge that any of the men who participated in these acts were railroad men, but he thought a certain percentage of them were, from their knowledge of railroad business, Other reporters also testified.

Chief Deputy Marshall Donnelly testified that he had about 4,000 deputies under him during the strike. He acknowledged that some of his med were inefficient, but denied that as a whole they were as worthless a body as represented by the reporters. He did not recognize any strikers among those whom he saw commit violence.

The commission adjourned until to-morrow.

AID FOR PULLMAN EX-EMPLOYES. GOVERNOR ALTGELD ISSUES AN APPEAL TO THE PROPER OF CHICAGO.

exestigation of the conditions existing among the ex-employes of the Puliman Company who par ticipated in the recent boycott and strike, Governor Altgeld to-night issued the following relief appeal

To the People of the State of Illinois, and especially those of the city of Chicago.

There is great distress growing out of the want of food in and around the town of Pullman. More than 1,000 families, or in the neighborhood of 6,000 people, are utterly destitute. than 1,000 families, or in the neighborhood of scool people, are utterly destitute.

Nearly four-fifths of them are women and children. The men have enterwored to get work, but were mable to do so I have made a personal examination of the case, and learn from the officers of the Pullman Company that prior to the strike they had 3,250 names on the payroll. Yesterday they had 2,220 people at work, but over son of these are new men, so that they have only about 1,650 of their old employes at work, leaving about 1,650 of that have not been taken back. men, so that they have employes at work, le not been taken back Several hundred of these have left, but the remainder are unable to go away, and have nothing to eat. I find the immediately after the beginning of the strike a relief association was formed to to eat. I find the immediately after the beginning of the strike a relief association was formed to provide for the needy and the books of this association show that 2.63 applications were made by the Pullman employes, mostly heads of families, to this association for aid. In fact, nearly all the employes, except the few hundred who left, have been supported by charity for nearly three months. As a rule they are a superior class of laboring people, industrious, capable and steady, and some of them have worked for the Pullman Company for more than ten years. Those who have been superior that they cannot help their neighbors if they would. The relief suclety is unable to get more supplies 200 last Saturday it gave to each family two pounds of oatmeal and two pounds of cornmeal and having nothing left it suspended operations, leaving the people in an absolutely helpless condition. The County Commissioners of Cook County, as overseers of the poor, have rendered some assistance, but owing to limited appropriations they can furnish relief for a short time only.

We cannot stop to inquire the cause of this distress. The good people of the State cannot allow women and children by the hundred to perish by hunger. I therefore, call upon all humsne and charitably disposed citizens to contribute what they can toward giving relief to these people. I am satisfied that any contributions sent to the Pullman Relief Committee at Kensington will be judiciously distributed. I find their treasurer has given bond to properly account for all moneys received.

The Governor also sent a communication to the Commissioners of Cook County, appealing to them.

The Governor also sent a communication to the Commissioners of Cook County, appealing to them, as the officers upon whom devolved the duty of providing for cases of this kind, to do the uttermost in their power to furnish immediate assistance to the people in distress.

WANTS ONE GREAT COMBINATION.

Chicago, Aug. 21.—The statement made by Presi-dent Debs, of the American Railway Union, before the Government Labor Commission yesterday, that within three days a proposition would be made to the leaders of all railway organizations that they resign their positions and railway labor be permitted to form one grand organization under one name and leader has aroused much interest in labor circles. Mr. Debs has this to say of his statement:

I had reference only to the railway unions, I meant to say that within three days we—meaning the officers of the American Railway Union—would submit a proposition to the officers of all other railway bodies that they resign their positions, thus leaving their organizations without a head, and that then these various bodies elect representatives to meet together in one contention for the purpose of deciding on one plan of union, whether that plan is one we have used in the American Railway Union or in some of the other orders, and when they have either decided on that or made up their minds that they will retain their old organizations, but will federate with the American Railway Union and all other unions of railway men, then to elect entirely new officers and start out on a basis of common action.

MR. COMSTOCK STRIKES OIL.

Philadelphia, Aug. 21.—Charles C. Rickerson, a lad of seventeen years, who was arrested yesterday in Lancaster, Penn., at the instance of Anthony Comstock, for sending objectionable literature through the mails, was arraigned before United States Commissioner Craig here to-day. He waived a hearing and was held in $1,000 ball. M. L. Deilinger, aged missioner Craig acceptable of the present of the control of the Constock at the same time, on the charge of printing the matter, will be tried at Lancaster, his offence not coming under the jurisdiction of the United States Courts.

Mr. Comstock stated to-day that the arrests were the most important he had ever made in Pennsylvania, and he was satisfied that the fountain head of the greatest publishers and distributors of vijematter in the country had been unearthed. Young Rickerson told Mr. Comstock to-day, so the latter states, that Dellinger's wife sold the objectionable books and photographs, and that H. J. Gast, night clerk in the Lancaster Postoffice, advised the violators as to the method of distribution. No further arrests will be made at present, but Gast has been dismissed from the postal service.

STANDING BY THE ORGANIZATION. MEETINGS OF ANTI-MACHINE REPUBLICANS. The General Committee of the Anti-Machine fac-tion of the Republican party in the XXVIIth Assembly District held a meeting in the rooms of the Union Club, at No. 2,250 Third-ave., last night. It was announced that Mr. Milholland would speak. and partly owing to this fact the clubrooms were crowded. Early in the evening a telegram was received from Fabian, N. H., where Mr. Milholland is, that he was too ill to be present, but would arrive on Thursday in time for the meeting of the Executive Committee on Friday evening. The meeting was opened by Donaid McLean, who introduced Joseph Wilkinson. In regard to the Anti-Machine movement, Mr. Wilkinson said it had come to stay, and that as far as had been ascertained there was in the whole district only one dissenter. Mr. Wilkinson denounced the last debate on the tariff in the Senate as "imbeelle rot," and said that if the union of the Republican forces were preserved the coming election would show the county of New-York to be solidly Republican.

Rollin Tracy then read the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the District Committee of the Republican Organization of the XXVIIth Assembly District, in special meeting convened, does hereby reaffirm its loyalty to the principles and aims of the Republican Darty, and pledges its utmost endeavor to further its best interests.

Resolved, That we hereby pledge our unswerving loyalty to the Republican Organization of the City and County of New-York, of which John E. Milholland is president, and repudlate the offer of the Committee of Thirty to organize, which involved the unmanly surrender of principles and honor. We hereby pledge ourselves to continue our organization on the lines laid out at its inception.

"I wish to request in this connection," said Mr. McLean, while the resolutions were open to discussion, "the representatives of the forty-cityle election districts to tell if they know of any Executive Committee on Friday evening. The meet-cussion. "the representatives of the forty-eight election districts to tell if they know of any disloyalty in our ranks to the party we represent." There was no reply, and the resolutions were unanimously adopted, after which the meeting of the IXth Assembly District took place at 5 o'clock last evening, at the rooms of the Crescent Club, No. 88 Eighth-ave. Mr. Collins presided. Among those who were to have addressed the meeting was John E. Milholland, but as he was out of the city he was unable to attend. John Sheppard presented the following resolution, which was adopted:

was adopted:

Resolved, That the members of the IXth Assembly District Republican Organization of the City and County of New-York do hereby pledge ourselves to aid and support the Republican Organization of the City and County of New-York, and under no circumstances to enroll under the Committee of Thirty.

A meeting of the XIIth Assembly District Republicans was held last night at No. 289 Third-ave. John J. Boyhan presided and John Joyce was secretary. After the regular business of the meeting was disposed of Dr. Hamilton Williams delivered an address in which he spoke of the necessity of united action and hard work during the coming campaign. He also told the members not to relax their efforts in opposing the Committee of Thirty and in upholding the stand taken by the Anti-Machine Republicans.

REPUBLICANS FEELING CONFIDENT,

Chicago, Aug. 21.-W. W. Tracy, president of the New-York and Washington, where he spent ten ion. He had this to say yesterday regarding his visit:

I find in New-York great activity among Republicans and a general belief that New-York State with be found again in the Republican column this fail. In Washington I met J. H. Maniey, chairman of the National Committee, and several of the Senators and Representatives. They were all feeling jubilant over Republican prospects. All in all, I found the publicans confident and Dimocrats despondent. We are establishing Republican clubs in every town in the country as fast as possible. I shall call a meeting of the Executive Committee early in September, when plans for the campaign will be outlined.

TO SETTLE A FACTIONAL DIFFERENCE. The Republican State Committee, when it met

arly this month, adjourned until the middle of September, but Chairman William Brookfield had to call a special meeting for to-merrow, so that the question as to which of the two factions in Albany ounty was regular could be decided. At the meetng of the State Committee on July 25 a sub-com nittee consisting of Congressman J. W. Wadsworth, chairman; W. L. Proctor, B. B. Odell, jr., G. W. Dunn and John A. Quackenbush, was named to investigate all factional differences and to report on vestigate all factional differences and to report on them.

This sub-committee did take action on the two organizations in this county and on those in Onondaga County. It was not, however, until the day after the State Committee adjourned that the announcement was made that the differences in Albany County had broken out openly. Both sides have filed lists of election officers. It was necessary to decide before September 4 which of these should serve, so a special meeting of the State Committee had to be called.

Congressman Wadsworth's sub-committee meets at 10 a m. to-day in the Fifth Avenue Hotel, to hear the claims of the two sides. A report will be made to the State Committee to horrow. As this is the only business to come up, the session to-morrow is not likely to be long.

NO DOUBT THAT THE HEBREWS WILL SERVE

The fact that the Hebrew Day of Atonement begins at sunset on October 9, the first day of regis-tration in this city, was mentioned yesterday in connection with a statement that nearly 1,000 of the inspectors of election who are to be appointed to serve this fail will probably be Hebrews. As a strict observance of the Day of Atonement might prevent an orthodox Hebrew from performing the duties of an inspector of election between the time of sunset and 9 p. m. on the first day of registration, there was a report yesterday that there might be difficulty in securing the services of Hebrews as inspectors this year. Police officials said last evening that no such trouble need be feared. The Hebrews who took enough interest in politics to wish to serve as inspectors of election, they said, were liberal enough to perform the duties on the evening of the first day of registration. If any inspectors refuse on religious grounds the Police Commissioners can appoint other inspectors in their places. The commissioners are not likely to decide any such question of conflict between religion and politics in advance. It will be taken for granted that Hebrews whose names are on the lists are willing to serve as inspectors if they are appointed and qualify. prevent an orthodox Hebrew from performing the Rogers, jr., secretary. Twenty-seven Assembly Districts were represented by 152 delegates. The Executive Committee reported that there would be one more truck used for speakers than in the last campaign, and there would be a "guerilla" truck in the An-

and there would be a "guerilla" truck in the Annexed District. Mr. Wardwell created enthusiasm by announcing that the campaign fund would be fully $1,099.

George Gethin was nominated by acclamation for Mayor. He is one of the editors of "The Fying Wedge" and a member of Typographical Union No. 6. James H. Hardy, of the XXXXI Assembly District, was nominated for president of the Board of Aldermen. For Sheriff John Y. Brooks was named, but he declined, and John E. Hanson, of the XVIth Assembly District, was unanimously nominated. The other candidates were: For Judge of the Superior Court, Afred L. Manierre: for Recorder, Thomas Drew Stetson; Coroners, Drs. Thomas A. McNichol and S. P. Smagg.

Then the convention split up into Congressional districts and heid little caucuses. Finally these nominations for Congress were announced: VIIIth District, James F. Gillespie, clerk; IXth, Dr. Timothy N. Holden; Xth, W. J. Yates, banker; XIth, William H. Larch, furniture; XIIth, John McKee, no occupation; XIIIth, Theophilus J. Manser, plasterer; XIXth, the Rev. TENNESSEE REPUBLICANS MEET. Nashville, Aug. 21.-H. C. Jones, of the State Executive Committee, called the Republican State Convention to order to-day and reported that O. B. Bowman had been selected for temporary chairman. Mr. Bowman made a speech, after which committees were appointed and an adjournment was taken. tees were appointed and an adjournment was taken. The convention reassembled this afternoon, but was unable to transact any business, on account of the delay caused by the Committee on Credentials, which did not report until 19 o'clock to-night. Many contests had to be decided by the committee and a strong fight was made over a number of these. H. Clay Evans has developed a great deal of strength to-day, and the fight between him and J. W. Baker for the nomination for Governor is becoming earnest. The convention is still in session at midnight, but nothing has been accomplished. H. Clay Evans, of Chattanooga, was formerly in Congress from the Hild Tennessee District, and Assistant Postmaster-General under the Harrison Administration. Colonel J. W. Baker is chairman of the State Republican Committee.

JAMES KEENE.

James R. Keene, the well-known stock operato and horseman, yesterday received a cable dispatch from Paris announcing the death on Monday of his father, James Keene. The son was much affected by the news, although the two men had not seen each other often in recent years. James Keene had been ill for about three months from a severe cold, but his death was hardly expected. His daughter, Mrs. C. J. Follansbee, and her family, were with him when he died.

James Keene was born in England in 1808. He came to this country about 1850, and for a time he was associated with his son, James R. Keene, in the brokerage business in San Francisco. For the last twenty years he had made his home in Paris, but he travelled extensively and his pleasant and gracious manners made him many friends with Americans travelling abroad. He leaves two sons and two daughters, James R. Keene and Henry Keene, vice-president of the Equitable Gas Company, and Mrs. C. J. Follansbee and Mrs. Mary Anderson, of San Francisco. WHAT GENERAL HOWARD HAS TO SAY ON A STORY THAT TROOPS ARE TO BE

CONCENTRATED IN THIS CITY. According to a story published yesterday, New-York is to be surrounded with a "bayonet fence," troops are to be concentrated in this city, and the troops are to be concentrated in this city, and the honest laboring man has denounced the reported mobilization as an "outrage." And all this because General O. O. Howard, commander of the Division of the Atlantic, with headquarters at Governor's Island, is alleged to have said on Monday that he believed in having a military force on Governor's Island which could be held in reserve. The reternal also said that David's Island was admirable attachment. also said that David's Island was admirably situated for recruiting purposes, and afforded a good place where new men could be drilled into shape. When shown the story yesterday, General Howard said to the Tribune reporter: "Yes, it is quite correct, but my sentiments regarding the use of troops in putting down troubles arising from labor riots are simply these: In the first place, New-York is not going to be surrounded with any 'bayonet fence,' nor has anything of the kind been thought of," said the one-s rmed veteran as he paced his office. "I object to the idea so frequently expressed in the public press that the regular officers and men enlisted in the regular army are arrayed against the workingmen of this country. They are not. The conduct of the regulars, officers and men, at Chicago, during the labor lars, officers and men, at Chicago, during the labor troubles there proves this. Of course, the protec-tion of the mails, the free action of commerce and the guarding of the military roads, which are the railroads, devolve in time of trouble upon the railroads, devolve in time of trouble upon the United States soldiers. These roads are protected by the laws of the United States, and such laws are not contrary to the Constitution, but are made in keeping with it.

"The best interests of every workingman, while he has an honest heart, is to have peace preserved and the law of the land carried out. I believe that the workingmen generally are in full accord with this sentiment and will, in time, show themselves on the side of that which is right.

"As to the doing away of recruiting depots, the change is immaterial. The Army is not increased by them by a single man, and there will probably not be more men at David's Island than there has been in the last ten years. The change is simply made in the interests of economy. There is no idea of strengthening any of the military posts around. New-York or of bringing military forces to the large cities. They are well equipped for all purposes offensive and defensive."
